THE BEST, AND CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANDARD

AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS

TO these engaged in the important, but ardnons task of instructing youth. McGUFFFY'S ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. One, Two, Three and Folks, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTEBATIONS being intended.

Prof. McGuffey's enthesiastic devotion to the cause of Education his fine taste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructer, render him peculiarly titted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable rid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and moral matter, procressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the pupil, Prof. McGulley has afforded to parents and teachers, a most thorough, complete, and efficient auxiliary in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the pullic.

gent teachers pronounce it the most complete scries now before the pullic.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eelectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, not withstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the neatest and most durable manner, while they are now furnished at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading books extent.

JIST PUBLISHED,

McGUFFEY'S RHETORICAL GUIDE; or Fifth Reader, of the Eelectic Series—480 pages, 12mo.; containing copions and minute rules, examples and exercises in articulation, inflection, emphasis accent, quantity, rhetorical pause, modulation, expression, reading of peetry, rhetorical dialogue, gesture, and their cold ter al subjects, to which are added a great variety of elegant reading lessons, (about one half prose and half poetry) selected from the most classic writers; furnishing entertaining and instructive specimens of various styles of composition. This work has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard hook; and the publisher confidently hopes, that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Acaderius Buile Schedus our College.

EMIGRATION TO THE RED RIVER AND

EMIGRATION TO THE RED RIVER AND TRINITY COLONY, TEXAS.

The parties to the contract made by the Government of Texas, under the special acts and anthority of Congress, passed February 4th, 1841, and January 18th, 1842, with Peters and others, for the purpose of Colomzing a portion of the vacant and unapprepriated lands of the Republic, having formed themselves into an association called "The Tevan Emigration and Land Company," appointed the undersisted as trustees, and vested in them full power and authority to carry out and fulfil the objects and intentions of the parties thereto. We would, therefore, respectfully gavernotice to those who may wish to avail themselves of the liberal terms and conditions now offered by the Company, to settlers in their Colony, that we now have at the settlement, at the forks of the Trinity Kiver, a permanent resulent Agent, Mr. Charles S. Hensley, an intelligent and competent gentleman, who will at all times be prepared to receive and locate to their satisfaction, without delay, all who may go there to settle.

To all emigrants who shall go on to the grant and settle in the Colony, on or before the 1st day of July, 1846, the Cempany will give to each and every family; 25 acres of land, and to each and every single man over the age of seventeen years 160 acres of land, to be selected by themselves, upon paying to our agent, for the est of the surveys of the lamis upon which they shall settle, at the rate of $16 for each family, and 8s for each single man, and the actual expense of the deeds and the record thereof, and, if the parties are withent money, a note will be taken, hearing interest.

By a family is to be understood a man and his wife, withor withent children, a widow or widower with two or more children under the age of seventeen years, of two men over the age of seventeen years, shall each be entitled to 160 acres of 1 mol in their own right, beside the 520 acres given to the family of which they are members.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

IN SENATE.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1846.

The Senate met at half after 10 o'clock. The Clerk read the journal of yesterday Petitions were presented by Messrs. PEYTON, EVANS and DRAFFIN.

Mr. BRADFORD moved a resolution that the Speaker request the several ministers of the Gospel, residing in Frankfort, to alternate with each other daily, in opening the Senate by prayer to Almighty God: adopted unanimously.

Mr. MARSHALL had leave to bring in a bill for the benefit of Edward Lewis, late Sheriff of Green county: referred to a select committee.

Mr. HELM had leave to bring in a bill to create a fund and provide ways and means to discharge the internal improvement debt of the State: referred to a select committee. Also, a bill to amend the charter of the Lonisville and Elizabethtown Turnpike Road Company, and provide for the erection of a bridge over the mouth of Salt river: referred to a select committee. Mr. PEYTON moved a resolution that the Rules of the Senate, at the last Session, be adopted as the rules of this Session.

Mr. HARRIS suggested a committee of three to Mr. SPEAKER stated that the former Rules of the Senate are operative till changed by the adoption Mr. PEYTON then modified his resolution, so as to order the printing of 150 copies of the Rules of Mr. MARSHALL had leave to bring in a hill to change the Terms of the Green and Hart Circuit Courts: referred to a select committee. Mr. CONNER had leave to bring in a bill to improve the navigation of Little Sandy river: referred to a select committee. Mr. BUTLER moved a resolution that TAL. P. SHAFFNER have a seat in the Senate as a reporter of its proceedings for the Kentucky Yeoman: adopted. Mr. DRAKE moved a resolution that A. R. Mur-RY have a seat in the Senate as a reporter of its proceedings for the Shelby News : adopted. Mr. PEYTON had leave to bring in a bill to continue in force the law appointing Commonwealth's Attorneys: referred to select committee. Mr. HARRIS moved a resolution that a committee of five he appointed to report whether the public printing cannot be executed cheaper than under existing laws, and what reductions can be made with due regard to the interests of the State: adopted.

Mr. HARRIS had leave to bring in a bill to modify the law of 1833, prohibiting the importation of slaves into this Commonwealth, so as to permit resident eitizens to import slaves for their own use: referred to a select committee.

P. POYD had leave to bring in a bill to abolish Militia Musters: referred to a select com-

Also, a bill making it the duty of Justices to keep execution dockets: referred to the committee on the Judiciary

Mr. CRENSHAW had leave to bring in a bill requiring that slaves, hereafter emancipated, be removed out of the State: referred to the committee on the Judiciary

Mr. DRAKE moved a resolution that Tuo. B. STEVENSON have a seat in the Senate to report its proceedings for the Frankfort Commonwealth:

Mr. PEYTON had leave to bring in a bill, contin-uing in force the Charter of the Bank of the Commonwealth: referred to select committee.

Also, a bill to continue in force the act for the benefit of Isaiah Heston, late Sheriff of Breckenridge: referred to select committee. Mr. GRAY remarked that it was understood in his quarter of the Senate, that the resolution for the appointment of the committee on Public Printing, contemplated a standing committee. If the resolution was so designed, it was unnecessary and contrary to rule. If any reason required an investigation, the inquiry should go to a select committee. He asked the reading of the resolution, and indicated a purpose to move a re-consideration, if the committee were not a select committee. [A Message from the Governor, by Mr. GEORGE B. KINKEAD, communicating a message in writing.] Mr. HARRIS. The language of the resolution implied a select committee. Of all subjects of legislation, that of public printing was least understood. There may be abuses in this branch of expenditures, and he desired a thorough scrutiny. The people, throughout the land, were crying out for retrenchment and reform. Mr. EVANS had leave to bring in a bill to prevent the killing of sheep by dogs: referred to select

Mr. PEYTON had leave to bring in a bill to add to the resources of the Sinking Fund by a tax on processes issued by Justices of the Peace: referred to a select committee.

Mode of intercourse between the Governor AND SENATE.

Mr. HARRIS understood from the Clerk that the message in writing from the Governor, just laid on the table, was borne by one whom he did not recognize as Secretary of State. He was unwilling the Governor should communicate with the Senate by any one not recognized by the Senate as the proper organ designated by usage. He was aware that unpleasant relations existed between the Governor and Secretary of State. The Senate should be guarded and cautious who was received as an organ of communication. He was unwilling to receive the message borne by the gentleman whom he did not recognize as the Secretary.

Mr. SPEAKER stated that he had received a letter from the Governor informing him that he had chosen Mr. George B. Kinkead as his Private Secretary. It was not for the Speaker, but the Senate, to decide whether the message should be received. borne by the hands of the Governor's Private Secretary. He did not think it becoming in the Speaker to assume to decide that question.

Mr. HARRIS intended by motion to bring the question directly before the Senate. We have to communicate through recognized public officers. The Governor may have as many scribes and private secretaries as he pleases; but he was unwilling to receive Executive communications through them. He moved that the message be returned to the gentleman who bore it here. The SPEAKER required the motion to be reduced to writing

Mr. GRAY called for the reading of the Governor's letter to the Speaker. The letter was read by the Clerk. It stated that he had appointed Mr. Kinkead his Private Secretary, through whom he thought proper to communicate his Annual Message to the Legislature.

Mr. HARRIS now produced his motion in writing, as follows: Resolved, That the Secretary of State is the only individual by whom the Senate will receive any communication to the Senate from the Governorand that the Message of the Governor, as presented by his private Secretary, be returned to him, by the Clerk of the Senate, with the request that he will communicate with the Senate by the Secretary of what officers or individuals, or whether by any one but himself, he should discharge the duty. Neither the constitution nor the laws contain any provision a right to require. The custom of sending messages by the Secretary was a new one. The former practice of the President was to deliver his message to Congress in person; and it was formerly the practice of the Governor of Kentucky to deliver his message to the General Assembly in person. The present practice of the President is to send his messages to Congress by the hands of his Private Secretary. It is enough for the Senate to know that the individual bearing a message from the Governor, is authorized to bear No law directing how the Governor shall communicate with the Senate, is he bound to employ any officer whatever for that purpose? It is true. the Secretary has sometimes been thus employed from considerations of convenience to the Governor; but there is neither law, nor precedent, nor reason, why he should be enforced to address this body by specific modes or through specific organs. The adoption of the resolution would be a direct reflection on the Governor, and would tend to bring in conthose difficulties should be brought properly and officially before the Scuate, he would be found ready to act. He hoped the resolution would not pass, and that the message, presented in the mode mes-sages are to Congress, would be respectfully receiv-duty is imperative, but the time and mode are dised and read at once.

Mr. SPEAKER. The resolution being objected to, the question is whether it he now considered.

Ar. PEYTON. I do not object. Mr. SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution. Mr. GRAY. This is a singular and extraordinary proceeding. What right have we to send this message back? We have already received it, and What right have we to send this when the reading is called for, it is proposed to return it. Where is our authority for sending it back | shall, from time to time, gice the General Assem-Floyd should have raised his objections when the tion. And, had the Secretary of State horne this message was brought in. Does the constitution or law require the Governor to communicate through any particular officer or individual! Then suppose the resolution passed and the message sent back. would not that procedure violate the constitutional rights of the Governor, the constitutional duties of the Senate, and our rules of proceeding? The constitution says the Governor shall from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of the one, looking to the constitutional provision requir-state of the Commonwealth. The duty is imperative-he shall, &c. Then if neither constitution, ception of his address, whether oral or in writing! law, nor rule, prescribe a specific mode of communication, it follows that the mode is left to his dis- hy himself, is a plain maxim of law. I am, thereeretion; and can we take exception to the mode, the discretion of the Governor to adopt his own is highly proper, nay, imperative upon us, to remode? This is the clearest proposition that can be ceive it respectfully. All we are concerned further rights of a co-ordinate department of the Govern- Chief Magistrate. ment, in questioning this act of the Executive. The conclusively that the mode of communication and Legislature was a matter of his own election. Has to him another mode? whether the message be delivered by one person or another? So the Senate receives it, by a respectful all we can require. But suppose the message be cut off? If the Senate may dictate mode and manner to the Governor, does not every one perceive constitution would be violated and the Governor He hoped the resolution would be rejected.

(Mr. Peyton.) and the Senator from Christian, (Mr. stand in such or such a spot; or impose any other Gray,) declare the resolution to be extraordinary. True; but the act of the Governor, so contrary to usage and custom, was likewise extraordinary. When did any other than an accredited officer, acknowledged by the co-ordinate department, scrve as the organ of communication between the Executive and Legislative departments? Why did the Governor appoint a Private Secretary? Doubtless, he needed one. I, too, have a right to appoint me a Private Secretary. I deny the proposition that we are compelled to receive communications from the Governor by any hands. It is the practice in all Governments to send communications from the Executive, by the Secretary of State. I defy any one to point to any instance of such intercourse except through the Secretary of State. Shall we permit the Governor, in this indirect way, to remove the Secretary of State? We have recognized Benjamin Hardin, the Secretary of State, as the organ of communication from the Governor. Shall we now recognize his new organ? I cannot point to a specific law requiring the Governor to make the ject of appointing, and what the duties of the Secthe organ of communication between the Executive and Legislative departments. Is the Secretary of State a mere clerk, scribe or prothonatory? I apfor one, am unwilling to receive this, except through and duties of the Governor and we receive a message from the House of Representatives, except through a recognized organ? And the Senate by the hands of the Secretary of State. when we send messages to the House, do we select

Tom, Dick and Harry to bear them? No: we send a member, a recognized organ. I have no interest in the quarrel between the Gov-ernor and the Secretary of State. They may fight out their feuds, like Kilkenny cats. The Democracy were not to be hurt by any such collisions between Whigs. If Ben. Hardin has done any thing for which he deserves to be addressed or impeached out of office, let it be done; but the Executive cannot remove him by extraordinary modes. The Governor appoints a Private Secretary. Let Foreign Ministers have their Private Secretaries. I appeal to the usages with which we are all familiar. Is the Private Secretary an officer? Has he been recognized? He is personally a gentleman whom I admire: and I say nothing whatever personally dis-I am aeting from high respectful towards him. principle, in resisting this stretch of Executive opinions of the Senator from Hardin always have power. I am unwilling to receive Messages by General Assembly, but does not enter into the idle a Private Secretary. I have no interest or personal ceremony and ridiculous parade of prescribing by feeling in this matter. Let the Secretary of State be removed by impeachment, if he deserve to be re-

I have no feeling whatever in regard to this case, but am unwilling to receive the message by the hands of the Private Sccretary.

Mr. BUTLER. If this were a mere question of usage or courtesy, he would say nothing; but it is a question deeper, more comprehensive and vital; striking directly at the Constitution itself. In this aspect, the subject is of great importance. How did the question come up? The Governor, according to usunge, sent in his message at the opening of the session, and as the medium of conveying it, chose his Private Sccretary; a Senator, a member of a coordinate branch of the Government, proposes to send the message back, because improperly, informally and illegally communicated, and because he deems the act. thus characterized, an Executive usurpation. The act is not an act of usurpation; but, if this resolution be adopted, we shall commit an act of usurpation, by unjustly striking at a co-ordinate department. The Senator from Floyd has been flict the Governor and Secretary. He was movilling called on for law, requiring the Governor to make to take any part in their difficulties. Whenever the Secretary his organ of communication. The the Secretary his organ of communication. The invocation is disregarded—the Senator can find no law to offer in response. The Constitution requires the Governor to give the Legislature information from time to time. The cretionary, and he may communicate by writing at the opening, or the middle, or end of the session; or he may omit written communication altogether and employ the oral mode of address. Neither Constitution nor law, requires him to send his message by any s ecial person or officer. As to mode, he may employ the oral or written; as to the agent of conveying the Executive address, he may personally deliver it in writing or by speech.

Under a plain reading of the Constitution-"he requiring a certain person to bring it to us a- bly information"-it would be far more plausible to There is no law no precedent, no practice, require the Governor to execute this duty in person, to sanction such a procedure. The Senator from than to make the requisition proposed in the resolumessage here, I ask, if others could not have ohjected to receiving it, quite as reasonably as the Senator from Floyd does in the actual case to-day? Nothing in the Constitution or law recognizes the Secretary of State as the organ of communication from the Gavernor. Suppose the Gavernor presenting himself before the Scnate, tendering information of the state of the Commonwealth, could any Certainly not. What one does by another, he does fore, willing to receive this message, respectfully perfectly proper, decorous and respectful, which in tendered by the hands of the Private Secretary of his discretion he adopts ? You have quite as much warrant of the Constitution and of propriety thus to treat the Governor, as to adopt the requisitions of the resolution offered by the Senator from Sir, that resolution proposes a fearful aggression opon a co-ordinate department of the Gov-ernment. What are the checks and balances of the Constitution provided for, if you may, by resolution, tie the Governor down, as proposed by that on the

The Senator from Floyd said the Governor was guilty of usurpation. I see none; but we would be guilty of that political crime, were we to adopt the Senator's resolution. We would thereby trample on the Constitution and the rights of the Executive. This proposition is too plain to need elaboration.

The duties of the Secretary are prescribed by the Constitution and laws. Here, said Mr. BUTLER. having read the section of the Constitution, requiring the Secretary to keep a fair register, &c., is the scope of his power. Is he the organ of the law, Secretary his organ; but let me ask what is the obdefining the daties of the Secretary, but I can find We all know one of his duties is to act as none making him the organ of communication between the Executive and the Legislature.

Mr. HELM. I am obliged to the Senator from Floyd for the kind feelings towards the Secretary peal to usages. We never have received messages of State which he has displayed. I have read over rom the Governor, except by the Secretary; and I, the Constitution and laws referring to the powers that officer as the organ of communication. Would not concur with the Senator from Floyd, that the Governor is bound to present his communications to I do not wish the harmony of the Senate disturbed by this question. By informing the Speaker that he has appointed a Private Secretary, the Governor concedes he has a Public Secretary. If this be the case, I have no objection to the reception of the Message by the hands of his Private Secretary. I understand the Constitution to require certain duties to be performed by the Secretary of State. Let those constitutional duties, and such others as the laws prescribe, be those only performed by the Secretary. I am unwilling to make a difficulty on this question in the Senate. If any difficulty arise, over which the Senate shall be required to exercise its official jurisdiction, let it come. I will be ready to meet it; but sufficient unto the day, is the evil thereof. I hope my friend, the Senator from Floyd, will withdraw his resolution.

which was adopted, to wit: Resolved, That A. E. DRAPIER be permitted to take a seat in this House for the purpose of reporting its proceedings for the Daily Commonwealth. Mr. J. SPEED SMITH asked leave to offer a resolution, which was reported as follows, to wit: Resolved, That the President of the Board of Internal Improvements report to this House, with as little delay as possible, the number of additional ocks and dams necessary to extend slack-water navigation to the Three Forks of the Kentucky river; also, an estimate of the probable cost of each lock and dam, as nearly as practicable, from the facts in his possession.

Mr. S. briefly stated his reasons for offering the reslution at this time. It was but an inquiry into facts of interest to his constituents and to himself, which he hoped would not be thought exclusive, because it respected his section of the State. It was a proposition on which he much desired information, in order that intelligent legislation might be based upon it. He entertained no feeling of exclusiveness toward other sections of the State, and he hoped gentlemen would make no opposition to his tutional objection to his course.

THE WAR QUESTION .- The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, speaking of the Oregon bill in Congress, says:

When I wrote you a week since that my belief was that the action of Congress would not be such as opinion was founded upon the provisions of the bill as originally drawn, and which, having the sanction of the President, I supposed would be enacted into a law. The bill as reported is unquestionably in violation of the treaty, and will probably be so regarded by the British Government. Indeed, it is known that Mr. Packenham has expressed himself to this effect, and that strongly and decidedly. He objects specifically to that provision of the bill. which authorizes the erection of forts, as being an act of possession not within the competency of either Government, and also to the sending of the military force of the United States into that territory. It was explained to him that such force should only be to such an amount as should be reasonably necessary to the protection of our eitizens there, which protection is the duty of the Government, and perfectly consistent with our obligations under the treaty; but, after a somewhat long discussion upon the subject, his opinion as to the offensive character of the bill remains unchanged.

They have every year been examined, approved and alloved by committees composed of men quite as intelligent and honest as the Yeoman man: though he insinuates that party considerations have influenced Whig members to become faithless to the public interests, and to personal honor, for the sake of securing to us unlawful gains. The charge, or the insinuation is as grussly false, as it is insulting to large numbers of the most honorable gentlemen of the State.

We have met and refuted the Yroman's charges before. There is nothing new in them. They have been refuted by the Legislature at every Session when we were Public Printer. They will be cheerfully met and again refuted this session.

The House has adopted a joint rule; which only awaits the concurrence of the Senate to become a law, to appoint a joint committee on Printing, to whom the whole subject, in every aspect of it, will be committed. We shall go proudly before this or any other committee, inviting the most searching serniny into our accounts and the whole subject of printing.

The professions of the Yeoman towards us, whether as they respect as personally, politically or officially, are duly appreciated. We understand -and presume no one can misconceive-the purpose of the affected tone of moderation, absence of malice, &c., in the Jesuitical article. It was assumed, as the article was timed, for effect at this moment.

We have been very unlucky or very stupid, in stirring up the wrath of the Louisville Democrat. That paper seems desperately bent on exterminating the Frankfort Commonwealth. We confess our indiscretion in alluding to the notorious fact - of which the Journal offered incontestible proof - that the editors of the Denincrat made a wilfully false representation of the circulation of that paper, in order to procure the advertising of the letter list. If we had known we were destined to demolition for alluding to a notorious fact, we certainly had kept dark. As it is, we can only beg pardon and pray mercy. The editor of the Louisville Democrat, who so recently made a notoriously, wilfully false representation of the circulation of that paper, in order to procure the advertising of the letter lists, is down on us, in an excrueiating article, written probably by his aunty Bridget, in regard to the matter of advertising lands. We have already said-and we said it in good faith-that, so far as our pecuniary interests are concerned we care nut a button if this advertising be distributed among all the papers of the State. We did not get it by false representations; we did not enjoy it at any expense of personal pride or self respect; it cannot be taken away by any process reflecting discredit upon us. It came not by lying on our part; and if it go, it cannot leave an uneffaceable mark of shame on our cheeks.

The Union appeals for the patronage of the party because it is the known mouth-piece of Mr. Polk; and the editor of the Union dares no more to open or shut his mouth, unless by Executive permission, than the Democrat man dares to forego subserviency to his Louisville masters. > RAILROAD FROM FRANKFORT TO LOUISVILLE. The meeting in Louisville on Saturday night was well attended, and the manifestations in favor of the immediate prosecution of the enterprise are stated to have been strong and unanimous. Mr. Guthrie reported to the meeting a petition to the Legislature, praying such a charter as will: 1st, authorize the old Lexington and Ohio Railroad Company to proceed in the work; 2d, provided this company does not within a given time accept of this charter, then that a new company may be formed for the same purpose, and, 3d, in case the State does not deem it expedient to part with that portion of the road now in operation between Frankfort and Lexington, that a company may be formed to construct the road from Frankfort to Louisville.

This trial has lasted one entire week, and has excited in its progress, from day to day, unusual interest, the court-room being crowded with spectators.—Nat. Int., Dec. 25.

It is understood that the ground of McNulty's acquittal was a technicality of law, and not that he, House or elsewhere. Between sunset and dark he approached had not actually embezzled the public money. The from the direction of his office, Jacob Swigert and myself, standlaw, under which he was indicted, makes it a felony to embezzle money put by law into the hands of an officer. The Contingent Fund of the House, which it is charged McNulty embezzled, was placed in his hands according to custom and usage, and not by express provision of law, and so through this technical cranny he escaped.

The N. Y. Evening Post, after reviewing the ground in controversy between Great Britain and the United States concerning Oregon, and the strength of the claim of each, closes with the folowing brief remark:

"We doubt very much whether Great Britain would engage in a war, in which she did not expect an easy victory, for the sake of supporting a claim so manifestly groundless as this."

The editor of the United States Gazette thus of the Tariff:

Just as we were closing the above remarks, a gentleman of the South called on us, and in the course of conversation, he mentioned to us that he had, within a year, visited nearly two thousand factories; that his interview there had been with the operatives, for whose welfare he made special inquiry, with a view of ascertaining their situation now, as compared with that some years ago; and the result of his inquiries was, that the wages in every instance had been increased, and that their condition was better than it had been before, and there are none of them who will not read with asonishment the statements of the President and Secretary of the Treasury.

It is altogether too preposterous an idea to be seriously entertained, that two great and prosperous nations, like England and America, should go to war, for a few degrees of sterile territory, like that of Oregon. Any four able Statesmen, of the two countries, could bring the whole matter to a speedy ndjustment. Let our Government appoint Daniel Webster and John C. BROWN'S ROW, NO. 3, BELOW THE COMMONWEAR

Frankfort. Kentucky.

HERF Fashion has her style arrayed,
Of art and taste combined;
Each gorgeous dress is here displayed,
To suit the varied mind.
Here Coats, and Vests, and Pants you view,
Of texture smooth and fine;
All colored with each rainbow hue,
To deek the form divine:
And Scarfs of every heauteous dye
Artistic skill could trace,
To please the taste, delight the eye,
And twine the neck with grace:
And splendid Cloaks made a lanade,
To keep the body warm;
The richest dress which Fashion's code
Has given the manly form.
Our ample stock we purchased low,
And paid the rino down;
And thus can sell for less, we know,
Than any one in town.
Our matchless Guods they call and see

Than any one in town

And buy a splendid suit, For they shall fit you to a T, And shall be cheap to boot. Just try the new GREAT WESTERN stand;

To please shall be our task, and when we've served with ready hand, es-that's all we ask.

MANSION HOUSE.

MANSION HOUSE.

The undersigned having recently purchased this well known establishment, would respectfully inform his friends and the Public, that it is now opened under his own superintendance. The house has been thoroughly repaired, enlarged and refursished; and he flatters himself that it is conducted in a style equal to that of any hotel in the Western country.

To strangers be would say that the house is situated in the centreof the business part of the city, one square from the Steam Boat Landing, and one from the Capital and Courts of Justice. Guests and their baggage are taken to and from the Raircaid depot and Steamboat landing in post couches, free of charge. All the Stages uncersarily pass by or start from the House daily.

Southern gentlemen and their families would do well to spend at least a few days of the summer season amongst the romantic scenery of the Kentucky river and Elkhorn cliffs in the vicinity. An extensive Livery Stable, conducted by HENRY GILTNER, Esq., is connected with the House, from which conveyances of every description can be procured at all hours.

The subscriber invites the patronage of his friends and the public, and pledges himself that they will necessarily be pleased with their accommodation.

X. B. The Reverend Clergy of all denominations are respectfully invited to the House, and consider themselves the guests of undersigned during their sojourn.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE.

THE subscriber will open a permanent ACAHEMY FOR BOYS AND YOUNG MEN, at his residence, five miles South of Frankfort, Kentucky, hitherto known as the Frankfin Springs, on the first Monday in April next.

The property was purchased by the undersigned solely on account of its admirable adaptation, in every respect, for Academical purposes; being entirely spart from all the contaminations of Town Life; the Locality being Airy and Healthy; the Mineral Waters Salubrious; the Buildings Elegant, Extensive and Commodious.

Waters Salubrious; the Buildings Elegant, Extensive and Commodious.

In his System, the Education of the Entire Man. Moral, INTELLECTEAL and PRINSIGAL, will receive due attention. The ANTIENT CLASSICS will be properly attended to; but the Course of Instruction in the MATHEMATICS and the NATURAL SCIENCES, will be peculiarly thorough.

The ACADEMICAL YEAR will be divided into two sessions of twenty-one weeks each, the first commencing on the first Monday in April, and the second on the first Monday in October.

Terms—Payment in Advance:

For Boarding and Tuition, per session.

For the French and German Isuguages, extra,

10 00 Books and Stationery, at usual prices.

For those to whom the undersigned is known personally or by reputation, he deems testimonials and references unnecessary: this honorable graduation at the United States Military Academy at West Point; his subsequent connection with the Engineering service of the General Government; his long experience as an Instructor, and his occupancy of the Chair of Mathematics in Transylvania University for three years subsequent to its re-organization in 1849, having brought his qualifications as a Feacher and Governor of youth into public observation. For the satisfaction of others, he refers to the testimonials subjoined, and to the Ministers of the Kentucky Annual Conference, as well as the Preachers of the Methodist Church generally in the West and South.

R. T. P. Allen, Principal.

Frankfort, Dec. 20, 1845.

R. T. P. ALIEN, Esq.

Professor ALLEN has occupied the Chair of Mathematics in Morrison College, Transylvania University, during the last three years, and as be proposes leaving the University, with a view to the establishment of an Academical Institute, under his own control, I take great pleasure in saying, that during his connection with the Paculty of Arts in Transylvania, he performed the duties of his Department, hoth as it regards instruction and government, with rare ability and success; and whetever he may go, I cheerfully recommend him to public confidence, as an able and indefatigable Teacher.
